Your Rights as a Patient

In accordance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), this document outlines your rights as a patient. You have the right to receive a reasonable notice and understand that you can make decisions about your health and care. If you need more information, you may contact the office by phone or in person. The office of patient services can assist you.

Privacy and Financial Information

The Privacy and Financial Information section explains your rights regarding your health information. You have the right to inspect and request a copy of your health information. You also have the right to request an amendment to your health information. You have the right to request that your health information not be shared with others. You have the right to be informed of the steps the office takes to protect your information.

Treatment for Patients

The Treatment for Patients section outlines your rights regarding your treatment and care. You have the right to refuse treatment, and you have the right to be informed of the risks and benefits of the treatment you are considering. You also have the right to be informed of the potential outcomes of the treatment.

Respect for Patients

The Respect for Patients section emphasizes the importance of respect in the provision of care. You have the right to be treated with dignity and respect. You have the right to be informed of your rights and to be involved in decisions about your care. You have the right to be treated in a manner that is consistent with your cultural beliefs and values.

Partners in Care

The Partners in Care section highlights the role of partners in the provision of care. You have the right to be involved in decisions about your care and to receive information about your care in a clear and concise manner. You have the right to be informed of the steps the office takes to protect your information.

In summary, this document outlines your rights as a patient and provides information about the steps the office takes to protect your health information. You have the right to request more information and to be involved in decisions about your care. You have the right to be treated with respect and dignity. You have the right to be informed of your rights and to be involved in decisions about your care.
Patient Rights

We rely on a relationships-based patient-provider relationship to contribute to a successful and satisfying provider-patient relationship. We look forward to a productive and satisfying experience for all of us.

Thank you for taking the time to review the expectations and responsibilities that contribute to understanding the expectations and responsibilities that exist between providers and patients.

We strive to provide caring, research health care faculty and staff, as a teaching and learning environment that seeks to benefit the overall well-being of our patients. We are committed to providing quality comprehensive dental care for our patients. As a teaching and learning environment, you have chosen us as your dental home.

We are happy that you have chosen us as the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. The students, faculty, and staff of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry are happy to serve you.